Many stars as sparkling football Steelers win another, 31-0

A 1974 state football championship for Granite City High

The pleasant thought grew larger in Steeler fans' minds as they watched their favorites display offensive and defensive superiority over the Roxana Shells in a 31-0 win Friday night in Granite City.

Now victorious in the first four games of their season, three by shutouts, Coach Tom "Rocky" Schmidt's Steelers have to win their second consecutive Class 4A state competition as an independent school. The Steeler defense has yet to be scored on this season.

North next takes the road to 8

Pointe Coupee Friday.

Defensive standouts against Roxana included Ed Schmidt, Dale Anderson and Robert Holshouser. They helped virtually assure the 1974 outcome a 34-9 Roxana win over the first-year North eleven.

Six-pointers were tallied Friday by Larry Schleicher, Mike Doneff and Ed Schmidt. The visitors hit only four of 25 attempts for 43 yards.

North dominated the rushing offense, 230 yards to 75, with Al Sunderlik topping the individual placement kicks.

North amassed 14 first downs to Roxana's 10. With Quarterback Gene Logas completing nine of 18 passes, the Steelers moved 166 yards through the air. The visitors hit only four of 25 attempts for 43 yards.

North dominated the rushing offense, 230 yards to 75, with Al Sunderlik topping the individual placement kicks.

Wright's long field goal for a 3-0 lead was followed by Roxana took the opening kickoff and held it at its 42-yard-line.

Wright returned the punt all the way to the Shell 47 and North drove to the enemy 23 before a penalty and a loss dictated the field goal attempt.

Roxana next marched to the North 49 before punting, and the Steelers advanced from their own 16 to the 21 and had to kick.

Again frustrated on offense, Roxana had to punt the ball and North put together an 80-yard touchdown drive.

Wright gained six yards and Doneff ten yards. A 15-yard penalty aided the cause, and advantage was gained by a 40-yard kickoff and eight by Wright put the ball on the Shell 36.

A 22-yard scamper by Doneff earned a first down on the 14. After a three-yard loss, Logas passed to Schleicher for a touchdown. The first of Wright's four placements made the score

In the second quarter began, Roxana began an advance that immediately bogged down.

North moved to the Shell 46 before losing momentum, Roxana was held within its own territory and the Steelers were resupplied and punted to the enemy 41.

The Shells used 11 plays to drive to within 15 yards of touchdown territory. After incomplete passes, a 22-yard field goal attempt was successful, but the scoring play was nullified by a 15-yard penalty, called because the Shells had 12 players on the field.

A pass fell incomplete and North took over on the 30, quickly moving in for another TD.

Logas passed to Schleicher on a 30-yard play that carried to the Roxana 20, and the North quarterback then threw to Doneff.

Roxana had time for only two plays, and the half-time lead was tallied as 17-0.

The big third period began with the Steelers receiving the kickoff and moving to within field goal range as Bill Carr did much of the running.

Wright's kick attempt fell short and Roxana had to start from the 30-yard-line.

With one yard remaining, an incomplete pass and a one-yard loss left the ball on the three on fourth down, Holshouser having tackled Quarterback Bill Barnica on the crucial third down play.

When the 30-yard punt return was fumbled near the end zone, Ed Schmidt, a senior guard, fell on it for a Steele touchdown and the lead increased to 24-0.

North dominated the rushing offense, 230 yards to 75, with Al Sunderlik topping the individual placement kicks.

14-0 win

GRIGSBY JUNIOR HIGH SCHOOL opened its 1974 football season on the road Thursday with a 14-0 win over Webster of Collinville.

Doug Hayden scored both Gator touchdowns, on one-yard and five-yard dashes on handoffs from Quarterback Richard Awtar. Mike Schmidt provided a two-point conversion run.

The third period brought a Grigsby drive that reached the Warrior 20-yard-line. From there, Brian Thompson and Paul Malawy passed to End Derrick Watson, an 185-pound senior, for a Comanche touchdown.

Watson attempted a run for a two-point play after the TD, but carried it over the goal.

Roxana was held and Wright returned the next punt to the Shells 43.

Al Sunderlik gained three yards, Doneff six and Logas three for a first down at the Shell 45. Sunderlik then ran 15 yards and, after a five-yard-line.

penalty against Roxana, he picked up five yards for another first down.

Penalties pushed the Steelers out of the Shells 20 and Carr then ailed to Wright for a first down on the visitors' 11-yard-line.

Two three-yard gains by Sunderlik brought the line of scrimmage to the five, from where Wright carried it across.

His place kick made the score 31-0.

Roxana began a march that continued into the fourth quarter. The Shells tried a running play with fourth down and a yard to go but were stymied by the stubborn Steeler defense on a quarterback sneak.

Gaining possession on the Roxana 45, North ground its way to the 29 and Carr ran for an apparent touchdown. But a clipping penalty was assessed and a North pass was intercepted by Tom Vogt.

North recovered the ball to punt, but recovered a Steeler fumble on the North 28 and had excellent field position.

The Steelers thwarted three pass plays and then halted a surprise run a yard short of a first down.

Taking over on its 17, North recovered a fumble to punt by Sunderlik and Carr that earned first downs on the 30 and 45 and the Roxana 36. The final play was a 16-yard run by Sunderlik to the Shell 20-yard-line.

Warrior rally fails, Cahokia wins here, 12-7

Back home again on what they hoped would be the friendliest confines of their home field, the Warriors of Granite City High School instead saw their "welcome home" gathering turned into a scapping party by the rampaging Comanches.

The 12.7 setback Saturday afternoon was the second successive Southwestern Conference loss for the South grididers, 21-21 victims of Bellefontaine East a week ago.

Malawy was hit hard on the first play following the Warriors' after-TD kickoff. South took over on the enemy 41, but a fumble by offensive pass play failed to connect.

Later recovering an enemy fumble in Comanche territory, the Warriors forced themselves with an opportunity for a second scoring drive but could not get their offense rolling.

Columbia grid Eagles conquer Trojans, 18-6

Disappointed for the fourth successive weekend, the football Trojans of Madison High School sustained an 18-6 Columbia Saturday afternoon at Columbia.

Columbia opened the scoring early in the second period after both teams had been frustrated in their offensive drives during the initial quarter.

South Quarterback Richard Schlemmer threw a 33-yard touchdown pass to a favorite receiver, Dave Nobbe, for the host team's first six points. A run for the extra point failed.

Madison tied the score as Senior Halfback Joe Young, Jr. (155-pound spanner), broke through at the enemy 30-yard-line and ran for a touchdown. Young had scored a week earlier on an even longer run, a 90-yard kickoff return.

But it was Columbia's Eagles who ended a run after the TD for a two-point conversion but were stopped before crossing the goal.

The 6-4 deadlock was broken shortly before halftime when Schlemmer connected with Young for a 20-yard TD pass to Pat Prader, this time on a 27-yard touchdown pass play. An ensuing run failed.

The third quarter proved to be scoreless and the Madison elevens started to move up to catch up in the fourth period.

But it was Columbia's

Eagles who reached paydirt.

After a Columbia fumble, a run after the TD for a two-point conversion but were stopped Nobbe going into the end zone on an 18-yard pass from Schlemmer. Another conversion run was unsuccessful for its initial 1974 football victory when it visits the Quincy Catholic boys' high school for a game at 8 p.m. Friday.

Madison's lone touchdown drive again Columbia was set up by a long kickoff return by Trojan Pete Fecurka who reached the Eagles' 46-yard-line.

Quarterback Daryl Franklin suffered a hand injury during the game and was replaced by Mike Woods.

Kevin Werner made two interceptions and Steve McCune snared one enemy pass. But the Trojans fumbled 12 times, and Columbia recovered six of the fumbles.

Lacking regular Quarterback Emmett Timmons, Madison limited its offensive plays to a rather than attempting passes. The Eagles hit five passes for 98 yards.

Madison tried only 26 rushing plays, while Columbia had 130 yards, while Columbia gained 66 yards on 36 plays.

The hosts had a 9-2 advantage in first downs.

Bob Newton picked up 40 yards on 10 carries for the Eagles, and Young totaled 80 yards. Mike Stanley 41 yards and Fecurka 20 yards for the Trojans.

Mercer repeats as series champ doubled him home.

Back-to-back homers in the fifth by Bob Scott and Corey made the score 4-1. Alton had scored in the fourth.

East Alton scored again in the eighth and commanded a 6-4 lead on four runs in the ninth.

Playing a come-from-behind style which also won them the championship, Mercer fought back. Bob Finkie kicked off the bottom half of the final inning by drawing a walk. Two outs later, Corey doubled Finkie to third and Scott's second hit of the game provided the winning margin.

Alton's Bob Kasten picked up the loss in seven innings of pitching. He was relieved by Ron Middlecamp.

Granite City Mayor Paul Schuster presented the Mercer team with the governor's trophy and with a plaque award from State Senator Sam Vadala.

7th South soccer win a 2-0 shutout

Warrior Charlie Bennington scored his second goal of the season, assisted by Terry Valecia, to open the scoring Thursday in GCHS South's 2-0 soccer win over Assumption at South. The loss was the victory gave South a 7-2-1 record.

Gene Baker believes Bennington may set a new individual scoring record. In the Assumption game, he powered the ball into the net after taking it off the head of Valencia 15 yards from the mouth of the goal.

Bennington assisted on Valencia's score late in the fourth quarter.

South had 23 shots on goal to the Pioneers' five, and got seven corner kicks to the hosts' two.

Assumption committed 20 fouls to South's 13. Goalie Mark Mason was credited with the shutout, stopping three of Assumption's shots.

South's 20th win of the year was determined by scorecard playoff.

There will be prizes for the closest drive to the pin on No. 2, No. 8 and No. 13 and for the longest drive in fairway No. 1 by a man and one for the longest drive in fairway No. 1 by a woman.

Comment and analysis

Steelmaking growth here will be affected by extent to which the staff, community and region show National Steel it is welcome and appreciated

National Steel Corporation, by most yardsticks, has been a genuine friend and valuable asset to the Quad-Cities and the St. Louis metropolitan area ever since it acquired Granite City Steel three years ago.

That it is receiving "the back of the hand" on several fronts this year is probably surprising and sadening to the parent company, it can be surmised with a bit of "reading between the lines."

More in sorrow than in anger, National Steel may react by placing less emphasis on expansion of steelmaking here and instead look elsewhere to establish additional facilities.

If this happens, it could cost this community and region an immense amount of investment, construction, jobs, production capacity and economic prosperity.

The company's shame because, deep down, there is wide acceptance of National Steel here and great appreciation for its 1971 vote of confidence in the Quad-Cities. Maybe it is time that Quad-Cityans voice a bit of confidence in National Steel.

long, frequent formal hearings are held. Court reporters transcribe every word and opposing legal teams do the same.

In addition to the differing engineering theories of the company and state, a new kind of difference of opinion developed this month. The Illinois Environmental Protection Agency and Illinois Pollution Control Board apparently headed in opposite directions over local anti-pollution progress; the steelmaker is caught in the middle and is being threatened with potential fines and penalties.

A company's right to operate its facilities has certain valid limits. Employee rights properly have been expanded, but they are here and across the nation. Still, everyone stands to lose if procedural patterns become so unique that a plant acquires an "excessive production costs" tag.

Steps to seek greater procedural uniformity have panicked some employee representatives into what they see as a "fight for survival." The fight has taken diverse twists, including efforts to encourage federal intervention in the merger and even opposition to charitable agency solicitation.

A potentially long strike was seen earlier as an Aug. 1 possibility. It of course, didn't happen. All parties saw there was much to lose as well as gain, and the unprecedented need for steel also argued against such a confrontation. But the impasse, a tacit agreement to disagree, is not nearly as good as a mutually satisfying solution.

No attempt to assess who is right or wrong on this point is seen in this commentary. But the work rules issue is mentioned as one of the factors affecting the outlook for a "bigger and better future" for the plant.

Both corporate and division officials have made it clear on several occasions that they have been studying major expansion of Granite City production facilities.

Acquisition of the former General Steel Industries-Castings Division plant here early this year seemed to add substance to Granite City Steel's growth prospects.

Considerable expansion has occurred, but hopes for even bigger breakthroughs so far remain unrealized.

Odds now may favor a buildup instead at the division which still many of Granite City Steel executives, Midwest Steel, has succeeded in prodning the Justice Department to reopen its study and perhaps force some form of separation. This would be terribly bad news despite some employees' yearning for what they recall as "the good old days."

Sales policies have been criticized, although there is no way in the current steel shortage that a manufacturer can fully supply all its secondary customers. Challenges to what the management sees as its "right to manage" also can complicate attempts to make output match record demand.

Heavy emphasis has been given to the local plant's links to the quality of air in the St. Louis metropolitan area. State findings show the Quad-Cities have no problems related to sulfur dioxide or other forms of air pollution with a single exception suspended particulate.

Fine dust particles exceed desired levels at monitoring points ringing the plant.

The statistics have led to local air being called "the dirtiest in Illinois," although the absence of detection devices at so many places raises questions as to whether such an assertion can be substantiated. In any case, the parties recognize the importance of air quality and have been trying to achieve it.

Current remedial efforts are hampered by a difference of opinion over the type of hood mechanism most likely to suppress coke oven emissions. Instead of direct dialogue that perhaps could lead to a quick decision, the state has adopted an adversary procedure under which

Anti-burglar efforts during vacations

To the Editor:

As I am sure you are well aware, the Madison County Sheriff's Department has been conducting a Vacation Check Program for residents of the unincorporated areas of Madison County.

Since the initiation of the program in June of this year, over 400 separate check requests have been received and over 5,000 individual checks have been made.

Though normally home left unoccupied, the fact that they were being made susceptible to burglary, the fact that they were being checked appears to have affected that susceptibility, in that of the 400-plus homes, only two had been successfully burglarized.

I am well satisfied with the Vacation Check Program and intend to continue it even through the winter months.

But I think we have to give the Vacation Check Program, without being worthwhile at all if the public was not aware of the program's availability.

In this respect, your help and I look forward to working with the media on projects such as this in the future.

I would like to extend my gratitude and appreciation for the efforts of your newspaper to aid in protecting the residents of the Quad-Cities by publicizing the availability of the Vacation Check Program.

Again, thank you for your help and I look forward to working with the media on projects such as this in the future.

Mrs. Sollberger heads Scholarship Foundation

The Granite City Scholarship Foundation began its work for the new school year with an organizational meeting of the Foundation's council at Granite City High School South last week.

New officers for the 1974-75 year were named.

Elected president was Mrs. Jack Sollberger, succeeding Chairman of the Board, the post for the past two years.

Mrs. Sollberger, representing the Minerva Women's Club, has been active in the Scholarship Foundation for several years and served as 1973-74 vice president and chairman of the Applications Screening Committee. Ronk represents Prairie Fire Dairy.

New vice president is Bill Bright of American Steel Foundries.

Other officers elected at the meeting are Robert Spangler, Granite City Optimists, Juggernaut, Longest Yard movies praised

By GENTRY TROTTER for KMOX-TV

United Artists' "Juggernaut" is the most impressive of the summer-long adventure story on the seas.

This PG-rated flick stars Richard Harris, who does an exciting acting job and Omar Sharif.

It is thoroughly guaranteed to take your breath away. Through brilliant direction by Richard Lester, the film achieves admirable pace and tension.

"The Longest Yard" is a motion picture in a category all by itself. To say that the Paramount Pictures production enthusiast is to say that hot dogs do not belong at a football game.

Because a film deals with sadistic happenings does not necessarily mean that it is bad. Quality is the most impressive form of entertainment.

What makes "The Longest Yard" entertaining are the well-balanced moments and mannered writing into this R-rated production.

There is vigorous direction by Robert Aldrich, and see-saw humor, the kind to take your mind away from the information this is to say, credited writer Tracy Kaveney Wynne.

There is effective acting by Burton Reynolds, who surpassed his performance in "Deliverance." Eddie Albert as a cruel warden and Michael Conrad also contribute, and this masterpiece has been cast to perfection.

The plot deals with convicts who decide to get involved with jailers to form a football team behind the walls of despair.

This flick receives my rating of excellent.

The word "ugly" reminds me of 20th Century Fox's rotten "Together Brothers."

No matter what treatment you give this PG-rated number, the story about blood, revenge and murder is just too far. It receives my rating of poor.

"Death Wish" stars Charles Bronson. This R-rated story about a man who is willing to do anything to protect his wife is acceptable only as a movie, not as a valid solution to crime.

The art world is marching away at the earthlings in "Phase IV," but the arts will not be the same again. Oscar. This R-rated plot isn't much, but it has nice camera work, and a pace to keep you thoroughly entertained.

"Journey Through the Past" is an especially interesting to show what rock stars do and don't do on the concert stage. This R-rated number is totally disappointing.

Two new buildings for Pere Marquette Park

Contracts totaling $131,742 have been awarded to the Granite City Development Board for construction of two identical shop, office and equipment storage buildings at Pere Marquette State Park, near Grafton. Conservation Director Tony Dean has announced that the same contractors will work on both buildings.

Jersey County Construction Service and Sales, Inc. of Jersey City, received general construction contracts totaling $87,400. Sub-contracts were awarded to: Mike's Electric Co. of Alton, $11,700 for electrical work; and Thomas J. Fleming Co. of Alton, $16,454 for climate control and $16,188 for plumbing.

Dean said plans call for construction of 2,400-sq.-ft. prefabricated metal truss-type buildings, each with three stories, office, storage, office and toilet facilities. The structures will be 80x30 feet and approximately 15 feet to the peak of their moderately-sloped roofs.

Both will serve as maintenance centers and equipment storage areas, but one will contain the park ranger's headquarters and be used by the park ranger, while the other will become the new base station for the Forestry Division's firewatch radio network.

The radio net covers an area with a 30-to-50-mile radius. The forestry facility will be erected on a hill in the park's north central area, near the former Nike missile site, and the Parks Division building will be located near Pere Marquette Lodge in the park's eastern corner.

Construction is expected to begin within 60 days and be completed in approximately six months.

Skate Swap set Wednesday at rink.

Grants available to study abroad

Only a few weeks remain for qualified students to apply for grants offered by the Institute of International Education for graduate study abroad, according to Roy P. Peterson, assistant dean of the Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville Graduate School. The deadline for applications at SIUE is Oct. 25.

Offered under the Mutual Educational Exchange Program (Fulbright-Hays) and by foreign governments, foundations and private donors, 550 awards are available to 52 countries. Most of the grants provide round-trip transportation, room and board, tuition for one academic year; a few provide international travel only or a stipend intended as a partial grant-in-aid.

Applications forms and further information may be obtained from Peterson, or through the advisor for the SIUE Graduate School. His office is located in Room 2202, SIUE General Office Building.

Fun and games await youngsters at library

By RAY TEVIS

Granite City Librarian Fun and adventure always reigns in the Children's Department of the Granite City Public Library.

In addition to chess and checkers in the early afternoon hours, such games as Go to the Head of the Mountain and Scrabble for Seniors are now available.

For pre-schoolers the library provides Put-Togethers puzzles, including Names and Things, People and Jobs, and Alphabet and Letters.

The Children's Department plays a "Punch and Judy" puppet show for Christmas.

Details will be released in the very near future.

The bookmobile's young patrons are especially fond of joke and riddle books this year.

And one eighteenth century literary clown, Edward Lear, is popular among today's youth.

Lear overcame many obstacles in his desire to produce good humor. He was not only the twentieth child in a family of 21, but also ugly and unloved. Lear does endure; put on a happy face.

The Granite City Public Library provides an inexpensive photocopying service for patrons and students.

Letters and legal size, as well as oversize, copies can be photocopied.

If you need the information in a magazine or book, photocopy the pages. Cut and torn pages destroy the integrity of the library's collection for future patrons.

Military History buffs will enjoy Martin Caidin's "The Tigers Are, Hunting," Caidin's "The Battle of Kursk" (1943), the greatest single land-and-air combat engagement in military history.

If you prepare meals for a family member, buying hyperglycemic low blood sugar—Sylvia G. L. Dammett's "The Low Blood Sugar Gourmet Cookbook" offers you some new and different cooking ideas and Leiford Kordel describes several hundred potions, nostrums and recipes for curing many common ailments in "Natural Folk Remedies."

How about changing lives with someone else? Nancy with son, who only thought about a swap but actually did it. She explains her experiences in "The Life Swap."

Pat Loud of television's "An American Family" has written a memoir of her American dream in "Pat Loud: A Woman's Story."

Dr. David Reuben's latest book, "How to Get More Out of Sex," continues his discussion which began two books ago.

It's not too late . . .

to reseed your lawn or repair damaged areas. While crabgrass and knotweed are dying you can overseed thin areas with bluegrass.

A blend of 50% Red Fescue and 50% Bluegrass is good for shaded areas. Watering is essential to grass seed germination and seedling survival. Gentle, light watering two or three times a day is important until an even stand of seedlings can be observed. If the thin patches are loaded with dandelions and plantain it's not too late to kill them out with 2,4-D before you reseed. Allow 7-10 days to pass before reseeding.

which is from the "Attorney General of Illinois Public Health Trust" at a press conference held at the hospital.

The money will go to purchase sophisticated new equipment that will link St. Francis Hospital's emergency coronary care unit to hospitals in seven Central Illinois communities lacking the highly specialized coronary facilities

Galesburg, Peoria, Avon, Latinia, Carthage, Hopedale and Eureka.

The grant is drawn from a $1,183,525 trust created by Scott as part of a $4.5 million debt antitrust settlement set up by the attorney general against five major manufacturers of the wonder drug, "Tetracycline."

The drug's successful class-action lawsuit, which was filed by Illinois citizens, hospitals and agencies, and also won damages from the drug companies.

The bill, which is effective tomorrow, provides for licensing and the adoption of rules and regulations to establish minimum standards of public swimming pools and beaches.

Verdon Randolph, associate director of Consumer Health

Protection, advised that next week's hearing on the bill —postponed pending the adoption of existing minimum sanitary requirements for swimming pools as an interim measure until new standards are ready for revision early next year.

Dr. William D. Winkler, Frank

R. Rea said: "The bill should not affect the Wilson Park swimming pool."

"We have compiled 100 per cent over the years with state regulations and have made changes whenever necessary," he said.

Although the Wilson Park pool may be in full accordance with existing regulations, it is being proposed that the bill be referred to the board on the basis of the local pool. It said that the park district may have to replace all water and drainage pipes to correct

seepage problems.

Brown said that the concept of serving people in and around the neighboring communities a

"format which we hope can be developed throughout Illinois."

Willard Givens and Associates have been contacted to test the lines once the bottom of the pool has been removed.

Excess hospital beds in region are forecast

The St. Louis metropolitan area will have sufficient hospital bed capacity to support a population at least 21 per cent greater than the 1970 population when all proposed expansions and new hospitals are completed, a report released Friday by the Center for Urban and Environmental Research and Services of Southern Illinois Universities at Edwardsville.

The study, conducted by David Ault, associate professor of economics at SIUE, suggests that all proposed hospital construction in St. Louis County appears warranted.

The study also says that the construction of proposed suburban hospitals will not adversely affect the occupancy rates of the city hospitals as long as physicians retain their affiliations with the older hospitals.

Contemplated hospital expansion in Belleville, and the C. Anderson Memorial Hospital in Madison County will create occupancy problems in Highland, East St. Louis and other hospitals unless they can attract patients from other areas, the study contends.

According to Ault, the major difficulty encountered in the expansion of hospitals in St. Louis County is the effect of these increases in bed capacity on the occupancy rates of hospitals in Madison and St.

Clair Counties in Illinois and Franklin, Jefferson and St. Charles Counties in Missouri.

In addition to the study of the effects of new construction and expansions on occupancy rates, the study has also investigated the financial viability of the hospitals, the need for hospital beds in the area, and the appropriate geographical distribution of hospital facilities.

"The Illinois area presents some difficult problems for hospital planners and administrators," Ault says.

"The expansion of hospital capacity in North St. Louis County will cause the Alton hospitals to lose that portion of their service areas in St. Charles and Collinsville."

"The declining population of East St. Louis in conjunction with the completed expansion of Granite City's St. Elizabeth Hospital, the proposed expansion in Belleville and the recently begun Anderson Memorial will create excess capacity," Ault said.

Ault said pressure will build to reduce the number of hospital beds in East St. Louis unless the population trend in that city is reversed.

The study predicts that if population continues to decline in East St. Louis, by 1980 one of the three hospitals serving that area, C. Anderson Memorial, Christian Welfare and St. Mary's, will have to be converted from a short-stay hospital to some other use.

"The construction of Oliver A. Anderson Memorial Hospital at the junction of Illinois Routes 159 and 162 will create occupancy problems for St. Joseph's of Highland and St. Elizabeth of Granite City," the study states. "Anderson has an expected occupancy rate of less than 80 per cent and the smallest financial surplus of the new hospitals proposed."

"The proposed construction of Anderson Memorial appears to make the 1972 expansion of Granite City's St. Elizabeth redundant. This expansion appears to have provided enough beds to adequately serve the communities of Edwardsville and Collinsville."

The region included in the study is described as the St. Louis Standard Metropolitan Statistical Area (SMSA), composed of the City of St. Louis, the Missouri counties of Franklin, Jefferson, St. Louis and St. Charles, and the Illinois counties of Madison and St. Clair.

The area had a population of 2,363,017 in 1970. A recent Bureau of the Census estimate indicates the overall population has declined 0.5 per cent since 1970.

According to the study, the SMSA has 12,217 beds in 41 short-stay, general medical-surgical hospitals in 1972. If all planned expansions and proposed conversions are anticipated, the number of beds will increase to 13,339.

Copies of the CUERS report have been distributed to area hospitals and medical planning groups.

Copies are available, in limited numbers, for distribution to other professionals. Interested persons may write or call the CUERS office at SIUE, telephone 692-3062.

Albert E. Keller of the 2000 block of Omaha St., was sentenced Thursday in Madison County Circuit Court to serve one year probation for theft.

Keller pleaded guilty earlier this month to taking items from the home of Harold Scherff, Dorsey, Feb. 7.

A court record in that case, David Roy Simmons, Poolville, Tex., is a fugitive.

A mistrial was declared last week in the burglary trial against Jack Lampson, Fairview Heights, and a date set for retrial Dec. 2. A jury heard two days of testimony, but the mistrial was declared after one witness made a statement which the judge felt would prejudice the jury.

Lampson, 26, was accused of entering the mobile home of Larry Jenkins, 3801 W. 20th St., Feb. 4. A jewel box containing jewelry was among items taken and recovered.

A co-defendant in that case, Jerry Nishke, pleaded guilty to burglary last week and was sentenced to the time he has already served in jail while facing trial on some counts. He was returned to Menard State Penitentiary where he is serving time on a prior burglary charge.

Prisoners setting behavioral goals

Residents of the state's adult institutional are now participating in formal, written program agreements committing themselves to the attainment of specific behavioral objectives.

Illinois Department of Corrections Director Allyn R. Sielaff said the agreements are a vital part of the agency's comprehensive case management system, which emphasizes the delivery of intensive counseling services to each resident on a regular basis.

The program agreements involve each offender in planning and development of the rehabilitative program in which he agrees to participate until he releases from the institution on parole.

Sielaff said a significant part of the state's program is a daily summary which lists the resident's strengths and weaknesses, his long-term goals (for example, completing his high school education, getting a job, getting welding training and experience, or receiving a favorable parole recommendation) and possible program objectives related to his basic needs.

The corrections department currently employs 65 counselors and five caseworkers in its adult institutions. A year ago, there were 45 counselors and no caseworkers. Sielaff said it planned to hire 10 additional counselors and four more caseworkers supervisors, which will give a total of 75 counselors and nine caseworkers in adult facilities.

These professional staff members are augmented at each facility by a professionally-trained assistant warden in charge of program services and a clinical services supervisor who also provide services and counseling as part of the total programming for the institutional population.

"Through the case management system," Sielaff said, "the Department of Corrections is providing each resident with a greater stake in his own future—an opportunity to more effectively utilize educational, vocational and rehabilitative resources in keeping with his own needs."

"In so doing, he will not only profit more from his experience while incarcerated, but he will be better prepared to effectively adjust, once he makes parole and returns to the free community."

New baby requires a diaper decision

A new baby demands a diaper decision, and economy will probably be an important factor to consider along with convenience and ease for the new mother.

Barbara Bubar, University of Illinois Extension Service human economics specialist, points out three primary alternatives: a diaper service, cloth diapers, or disposables.

The cost of the various diaper alternatives depends to some extent on the frequency the baby is changed, on the baby's susceptibility to diaper rash, and on the number of extra diapers used for purposes other than as burping cloths or lap protectors.

The cost of a week's or month's supply of disposable diapers can vary significantly, depending on the brand purchased and the number used.

However, for purposes of comparison, Mrs. Bubar estimates a week's supply of medium-sized disposable diapers will cost about a total of $3.75—roughly $1.80 for a box of 30.

A comparison of the approximate monthly cost for the three alternatives shows a diaper service, depending on the number of diapers used, to be the least expensive.

Buying cloth diapers and caring for them yourself requires only the initial investment in diapers, plus the weekly cost of detergents, water, electricity, disposable diapers, $1.80 per month.

Obviously, cloth diapers that you wash yourself are the least expensive, while disposable diapers and a diaper service cost about the same.

But it's important not to overlook added wear and tear equipment and possible damage to the washer and dryer—not to mention the person responsible for laundering the diapers.

The third alternative is
